

GROUP ENVIRONMENTAL, HEALTH & SAFETY POLICY

TitanX
GLOBAL policies

Proactive operations leadership, focus on risk management and consideration of all stakeholder requirements are key to our success in the supply of superior powertrain cooling solutions.

It is the goal of TitanX to seamlessly manage EHS in our business. In doing so, TitanX commits with active leadership to:

- Prevent injury and occupational illness;
- Protect the environment, for example, by pollution prevention;
- Meet legal requirements and the requirements of those we do business with or according to;
- Establish goals to drive continual improvement in our management system to enhance performance.

The TISIX cores interact dynamically to drive continual improvement.

We direct our efforts through work in these TISIX areas:

Involvement of Personnel	Customer Development	Constant Innovation	Purchasing Excellence	Production System	Total Quality
Equip employees with tools for EHS autonomy.	Develop new products in conformance with our internal and customers' environmental requirements.	Optimize safe constituents and material handling features in the design stage	Control of purchased chemicals	Ensure that all workplaces and work methods are designed for safety and ease of movement.	Continuously improve the EHS management system and follow our progress.
Proactively improve processes towards environmental sustainability.		Facilitate design methods that generate environmentally friendly products.	Reduce EHS impact from supplied products and services.	Minimize emissions to water and air.	Improve EHS performance in the TitanX Group

Conformance to this Policy is the responsibility of every employee.

TitanX Engine Cooling

April 2017

Stefan Nordström

Chief Executive Officer

Jonas Nilsson VP PLEC   
 Björn Mösko VP PLOC   
 Niklas Ingesson VP Operations   
 Lena Ölund VP Human Resources   
 Peter Karsberg VP Finance & IT   
 Matt Moore VP RD&E   
 Cedric Huslin VP TitanXtend

Bruno Jouannet
 General Manager
 OU, North America

Per Berggren
 General Manager
 OU, Europe and South America

